Two Charged With $681,700 Truck Robbery

Boston (AP) — The mother of a college student arrested with him and his father in connection with the $681,700 robbery 20 months ago of an armored truck in Danvers yesterday defended her son as a "good boy."

Mrs. Margaret O'Brien, 42, mother of three children, said her son George D. O'Brien Jr., 19, "isn't involved in this thing." She is free under $1,000 bond on a charge of receiving stolen property.

Young O'Brien and his ex-convict father, George D. Sr., are held in Suffolk County jail for lack of bail. The youth, a junior at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is held in $5,000 bond on a charge of receiving stolen money. He was suspended by MIT pending outcome of the case.

The father, charged with the theft of property belonging to a federal reserve bank, is held in $100,000 bonds.

Mrs. O'Brien told newsmen her son "has never been in trouble before."

Meanwhile, FBI agents, who arrested the family trio, spent Thanksgiving looking into further angles of the theft. They declined comment on reports the elder O'Brien was linked with the $1,219,000 Brink's holdup of Jan. 17, 1950.

Federal agents were reported at Lincoln Downs, R. I., horse race track yesterday searching for alleged accomplices. To this report, FBI gave a laconic "no comment."

The crime in which the FBI said the O'Briens were involved took place March 25, 1952, when an armored car, property of the United States Trucking Co., was parked in the business center of Danvers, a residential town 20 miles north of Boston.

The three-man crew left the truck to have coffee in a nearby drugstore. While they were away, an unknown number of men parked alongside the truck and rifled it of $681,700 in cash.

The loot was the biggest armored car theft in the nation and was topped in cash haul only by the Brink's holdup.

Peace Envoy Stands Firm Toward Russia

Pannunjom, Friday, (AP) — The United Nations today stuck firmly to its position that Russia should take part in a Korean political conference as a member of the Communist side and "should abide by its results."

U. S. Special Envoy Arthur H. Dean repeated the Allied stand in a lengthy statement answering Red assertions that Russia should participate in the conference as a "neutral."

Dean indicated there would be no objection to attendance by neutral nations, but that they would have no vote.

Relaxation Of Gouzenko Terms Urged

Washington (AP) — The case of Igor Gouzenko was back in the hands of the diplomats yesterday, with Secretary of State Dulles asked to seek from Canada a relaxation of the terms under which Gouzenko can be questioned by Senate investigators about Soviet spying.

Until Dulles has had a fresh exchange of views with Canada's foreign secretary, Lester B. Pearson, it appeared that the Senate's internal security subcommittee would take no further steps to interrogate Gouzenko, former code expert in the Russian Embassy at Ottawa.

But Sen. Jenner (R-Ind), subcommittee chairman, has additional iron in the fire, and he indicated yesterday his group will press its investigation of other aspects of alleged espionage inside the U. S. government.

Jenner said in a statement that Alger Hiss and eight other persons who used to work for the federal government are now under special scrutiny by the subcommittee.

Jenner said "the subcommittee is trying to determine who was responsible for their continued employment, which, in most cases, involved promotions, increased authority, continued access of government secrets and increases in pay" despite derogatory information about them.

Farm Market Prices Down

Washington (AP) — The Agriculture Department reported yesterday that farmers received about $24,800,000,000 from marketings in the first 10 months of this year, 5 per cent less than in the same period last year.

Farm sales of agricultural products were said to have been somewhat larger than a year ago. But declines in prices pulled cash receipts down.

Farm receipts from meat animals were reported to have declined 7 percent, reflecting sharp setbacks in cattle prices. Returns from crop sales were down about 2 percent.

In reviewing the farm and food price situation, the department said consumer prices continue slightly above a year ago with most of the increase due to higher charges for transportation, rent, medical care and some other services. It said that moderate price increases for industrial products have approximately offset the gradual decline in average prices of farm products.

"We had no instructions even what to tax, so I taxed everything except cigars and gasoline. We collected as we were supposed to, and dropped it into a locked compartment. I counted it and accounted for every penny."

"On my cash register, I ring up all candy, pop, cigars, gloves, combs, etc., under miscellaneous. I sell cigars for 24 cents and I also sell four bottles of pop for 24 cents. So it is impossible to distinguish on the cash register tape if it is pop or cigars."

This says Brown poses a problem for him and thousands like him when it comes to the question on the form: "How many sales of 10 cents on which tax was not collected?"

"If you tell me," he told the tax people, "Then I will give you 10 per cent. I cannot hire extra help at $40 to $50 per week to keep track of the sales tax. I also cannot hire an auditor or lawyer to fill in the form."

"If I am subject to a fine, then I will be subject to a fine in another couple of months. I don't know any more about it now than I did two months ago."

"If I have to keep records and trace pennies at a loss of $200 per month (for extra help) then I will have to quit business and leave the state like thousands of others will have to do."

Russia Hints Superiority In Atom Weapons

By Francis W. Carpenter

United Nations, N. Y. (AP) — Andrei Y. Vishinsky hinted yesterday that the Soviet Union has atomic, hydrogen and other weapon types which the Western countries do not have.

Western delegations privately discounted the claims as bluster to offset a solid defeat suffered by the Soviet peace package proposals which would ban all such weapons of mass destruction.

The chief Soviet delegate mentioned the mystery weapons in a 2 hour and 10 minute appeal to the 60-nation Political Committee for approval of the peace package.

The committee overwhelmed every key paragraph of the Russian proposal. There was no vote on the resolution as a whole since none of the major parts survived the balloting.

Vishinsky did not elaborate on his remarks about Russian superiority in atomic and hydrogen bombs.

The Russian delegate led into his claim by saying British Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd had asserted the Russians were trying to get general reductions of armaments in the fields in which they were weakest. It was alleged, he said, that the Soviet Union was trying to prohibit atomic weapons because, according to Lloyd, the other side had greater numbers of them.

Then Vishinsky said: "How can one speak such words at the present time when the Soviet Union does have the atomic bomb and does have the hydrogen bomb and when the Soviet Union is not behind other countries in this respect, other countries which, I may add, do not have everything in this field of atomic and other weapons, that the Soviet Union already has."

That was the version as heard by the delegates in the committee room and reported in the verbatim transcript of the committee meeting.

That section was played back from a tape recording of the original Russian and this is the version as translated by an unofficial U.N. Russian-speaking source:

"What ground is there to talk like this at present when the USSR possesses the atom bomb, when the USSR possesses the hydrogen bomb, when the USSR in no way can or does lag behind other countries possessing such weapons in this field and even possibly do not possess all such weapons as the USSR possesses."

Malone Charges White Falsified Report For Reds

Washington, (AP) — Sen. Malone (R-Nev) charged yesterday that the late Harry Dexter White "phoned up" estimates of U. S. strategic mineral reserves in order to promote a multi-million-dollar postwar loan to the Soviet Union.

The loan never was made but Malone said White "deliberately underestimated" mineral and petroleum reserves to make the loan appear attractive.

Malone made available to reporters a copy of a memorandum dated March 7, 1944, from White, then assistant secretary of the Treasury, to Henry Morgenthau, then secretary.

VICTOR—Coach Jack Kist is pictured above being carried triumphantly from Gordon Giffels Field aboard the shoulders of happy East Stroudsburg gridders after yesterday morning's 16-7 victory over Stroudsburg. Rhee Leaves For Visit With Chiang Seoul, Friday, (AP) — South Korean President Syngman Rhee left by plane unexpectedly today for Formosa and a visit with President Chiang Kai-shek of Nationalist China.

Rhee said the surprise trip had no particular significance, that he merely was returning a "friendly visit."

However, observers noted that the trip followed closely a round of conferences Wednesday between Rhee and top-ranking U. S. military leaders.

Korean Red Pilot To Get Big Reward

Washington, (AP) — The $100,000 reward won by a North Korean Communist pilot by turning over his Russian-built MIG jet fighter is soon to be presented to him.

An Air Force spokesman said yesterday the Far East Air Force has been authorized to make the presentation "at an early date" to Lt. No Kun Sok, 20-year-old pilot who flew to the United Nations side two months ago.

Plans which have been under consideration call for the setting up of a trust fund, part of which would finance the lieutenant's education at some U. S. engineering school. The remainder would be his to use otherwise as he saw fit.

The MIG flew out of the Communists' hands has been undergoing study by U. S. Air Force experts at Okinawa. It had first been planned to bring it to the United States, but U. S. officials later announced it would be kept in the Far East subject to claim by its "rightful owners."

If this was an effort to smoke out a Russian claim, it did not bring such a result.

Secretary of the Air Force Talbott has said the offer to return it was made because the plane was delivered after the armistice and hence was "not in the spirit of the armistice." He also said it was "of no value to us."

The $100,000 was offered while the war was still raging and American authorities were curious to get a close look at one of the speedy MIGs, in an undamaged state.

Social Security Study Denounced

Washington, (AP) — A Democrat charged yesterday that a House subcommittee study of social security has been "nothing but an attempt to discredit and smash the present Social Security System."

The charge, filed by Rep. Eberhart (D-Pa) drew an immediate denial.

Rep. Goodwin (R-Mass), a member of the Ways-Means subcommittee, said the group's hearings have been conducted "to bring out the facts as to the workability of the present system."

"There is no intention of breaking up social security, but of trying to improve it."

Socialite Who Disappeared 22 Years Ago Found Married To His Former Secretary

Orange, Tex., (AP) — A middle-aged couple with six children yesterday, without emotion, admitted they were the Nashville socialite and secretary who disappeared 22 years ago.

Last night they ate a belated Thanksgiving dinner with four of their children and tried to act—as did the neighbors who dropped by to chat—as if nothing out of the ordinary had happened in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Palmer.

Yes, they were really Thomas C. Buntin, Nashville insurance man, and his secretary, Betty McCuddy of Russellville, Ky., who dropped from sight in 1931, they told reporters.

But after a hectic day—when at one point a reporter found the family sitting in his modest frame home, "silently and miserably"—they took on a more cheerful manner, carrying on small talk with neighbors who came by to say hello.

They said not another word about themselves, as they were before their disappearance or as they are now.

They have told all their six children, they said, since the first news came out yesterday morning. And they have told one of their two sons-in-law. The other is in the Air Force in Korea.

Were they ever legally married? "We have nothing to say now," they said. "Let us think this out."

All day long, a Sunday quietness hung around the neighborhood where the Palmers live. No curious stood around. The Palmers have admitted only to two reporters, both of whom they knew, and have declined to have their pictures made.

The teen-age Sunday School Class at St. Mark's Methodist Church sent Margaret Palmer, 16, a bouquet of flowers.

The Orange Leader said it had called many persons and found no one "who had any criticism for that family."

Buntin was 28 when he fell from sight and he left a wife, now remarried, and three sons. His secretary was 22.

For 22 years they have lived in Texas and raised their family. They have one grandchild now and another expected any moment.

She worked for a while in Orange as a court reporter and (Continued on page three)

Soviet Announcement To Have Impact On European Politics

London, Friday, (AP) — The Soviet Union surprised the Western world today with a terse announcement that it is willing to meet the United States, Britain and France in a Four-Power conference.

The announcement did not say what world issues Russia would discuss with the Western Powers or on what level the conference would be held.

But the timing of the announcement was bound to have a big impact on European politics, particularly French and German.

In Paris, Premier Joseph Laniel has staked the life of his government on a confidence motion broadly supporting the European army plan which Russia would like to see torpedoed.

Observers of the European political scene said the sudden announcement could make or break the Laniel government.

The Moscow communiqué also might have been timed to affect the Bermuda conference of President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Churchill and Laniel. If Laniel is defeated on the confidence motion, the French government will fall and France might have to be represented at Bermuda by the representative of a caretaker government with little power or no power to make real decisions.

Move Takes Big Three By Surprise

By John M. Hightower

Washington (AP) — Russia proposed to the Western Powers last night a Big-Four foreign ministers meeting at a date yet to be determined and possibly on terms not yet disclosed.

A note delivered to the American, British and French embassies in Moscow and later received at the State Department here was immediately put under study by U. S. diplomatic officials, including Secretary of State Dulles.

The document, which was not made public for the time being, was described as eight pages long and therefore requiring very careful consideration before an American official reaction could be formulated.

Department Press Officer Henry Suydam said that it is a reply to our note of Nov. 16 and proposes a meeting of the four foreign ministers at Berlin.

"No date is specified," Suydam said.

Nov. 16 notes from the Western Powers to Russia rejected as unacceptable Soviet conditions for a meeting with the West on the subject of German unification and an Austrian independence treaty.

The Soviet condition had included agreement by the West to a meeting with Red China and abandonment of the Western defense system.

Moscow, Friday, (AP) — The Soviet Union, in a move that surprised the West, announced today it is prepared to meet the United States, Britain and France in a four-power conference.

Its statement of fewer than 60 words did not say what subjects might be taken up or at how high a personality level the parley might be.

Details were promised in the text of a note to the three Western Powers which will be published in Moscow Saturday.

The bare preliminary announcement was a communiqué circulated by the Soviet news agency Tass, broadcast by Moscow radio and published by the government newspaper Izvestia.

The announcement of Soviet readiness to meet with the Western Powers came amid preparations in the West for top-level meetings of President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Churchill of Britain and French Premier Joseph Laniel in Bermuda starting Dec. 4.

The Moscow announcement came as a surprise. First it was heard on the Moscow radio by monitors in London. The French Foreign Office immediately said that was the first word it had, although such announcements usually come to Paris first through the French Embassy in Moscow.

Western Germany, which might be vitally affected by four-power dealings at this stage, showed its surprise immediately. German and Allied officials in Bonn scheduled emergency conferences for Friday to discuss the implications of the Russian note to the Big Three powers.

Mystery Marks Wounding Of Red Truce Inspector

Inchon, Korea, Friday, (AP) — The wounding of a Communist Czech truce inspector puzzled U. S. officials today. Was it an accident or was he trying to make a break for freedom?

After Lt. Col. Vojtech Bagda was found wounded in his quarters yesterday he was taken to the U. S. hospital ship Consolation where Czech authorities immediately threw an iron curtain around him.

They refused to allow U. S. authorities to talk to Bagda even though he was on an American ship in a harbor controlled by the United States.

A U. S. officer said the reason the Communists could do this was that Bagda and all other members of neutral nations inspection teams have diplomatic immunity.

School Paper Plugs County Seal Sale

The drive for funds through annual Christmas Seals by the Monroe County Tuberculosis and Health Society got an able assist this week from Coolbaugh Township High School.

In the November edition of "Coolbaugh Crier," the school's newspaper, editor Pauline Pope published a two-page editorial urging students to "Buy Christmas Seals—Help Fight Tuberculosis."

The editorial comment takes "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" as its basic theme, pointing out that the "x-ray is one of the best methods used to detect TB in the early stages."

Leading the Tuberculosis Society for its work in x-raying 3,420 persons last year in Monroe County, the editorialist discusses the many other activities taken in by the society.

"Of course, x-ray is only one of the factors in the prevention program," the editorial says. "Other measures include educating the public about TB and helping to improve living conditions; finding the person with TB early and treating and curing the patient as well as providing a good rehabilitation program . . ."

"The Monroe County Tuberculosis Society is composed of a group of volunteer helpers. One may pause and think. This prevention program really is a great deal of money. How does our county do such a fine job? Where do the funds come from?"

"The answer to the last question is through the sale of Christmas Seals to Monroe County residents," the editorial continues.

"When you place your three-cent postage stamp on your Christmas card, don't forget that tuberculosis seal on the back of the envelope," the article concludes. "You will feel happier knowing that the little double-barred cross that you have purchased and used will help to stamp out tuberculosis."

Publication of the editorial by the school paper was in response to a request from Mrs. Estelle Fleming, executive secretary of the county Tuberculosis Society.

Last month, Mrs. Fleming had asked local high schools to remind their students of the important work being done by the Monroe County organization.

Coolbaugh Crier's editorial was the first published result of that request Mrs. Fleming had seen.

In addition to Miss Pope, who is editor-in-chief of the Crier, staff members include:

Helen Quick, co-editor; Louella Morris, feature editor; Dorothy Knecht, social; Francis Yakita, sports; Andrew Sapp, alumni; Nell Kresge, humor; Alvin Stiff, school activity.

Catherine Scanlon is the faculty adviser. Elizabeth Leonard is in charge of art and printing.

The Crier is published as a quarterly newspaper by the Coolbaugh Township High School. Warren Nonnemaker, principal.

Thanks Given At Services

Spontaneous expressions of gratitude by church members for the blessings which a fuller understanding of God's love had brought into their lives was a feature of the annual Thanksgiving service held in First Church of Christ Scientist, Stroudsburg on Thanksgiving morning.

A period devoted to voluntary statements of gratitude is included in the Thanksgiving Day service in all Christian Science churches. Testimonies included mention of healing of physical disorders through the application of Christian Science, as well as other blessings.

The importance of expressing gratitude to God in deeds, rather than just in speech, was emphasized in the lesson-sermon read from the desk, entitled "Thanksgiving." It was especially prepared for the day, and consisted of selections from the Bible and from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

Couple Found 22 Years After Disappearance

now is a court reporter for the Jefferson County Court of Law at Beaumont. Her husband works in a television appliance store in Beaumont, and they commute the 24 miles.

Neighbors said the couple moved to Orange about five years ago from Brownsville, Tex., which is in the citrus country of the lower Rio Grande valley on the Mexican border.

The Tennesseean had the clue that Buntin was living in a citrus city in Texas when it started the search 19 days ago. That hint came from a Chattanooga lawyer for the New York Life Insurance Co., which announced on Nov. 6 that it had found Buntin alive.

The company got an injunction tying up part of the $50,000 paid on Buntin's insurance policy when he was declared legally dead 15 years ago.

There is that legal question. There are countless others. Betty McCuddy has been declared legally dead, too. Her share of a million-dollar inheritance from a great-uncle was awarded in 1937 to her nephew, Robert F. McCuddy, a freshman at Duke University.

Salvation Army 'Family' Stages Community Dinner With 59 Persons Attending

One of the biggest "family" dinners served yesterday was put before Salvation Army parishioners at 5:30 p. m., in the citadel.

There were 59 plates, 59 persons and 59 shares of a mammoth Thanksgiving dinner which was the result of a cooperative venture on the part of the people and their leader, Capt. Charles Baker.

The idea behind the community-congregation Thanksgiving goes back to the roots of Salvation Army doctrine. Capt. Baker and his wife were determined to make this Thanksgiving a day to remember for all families within their parish—not just the "needy" ones.

To make this possible, Capt. and Mrs. Baker worked out a plan. The Salvation Army quarters, they told parishioners, would furnish a congregation-size turkey (24-pounds).

In return, each member of the citadel group who attended the dinner, was asked to take something to help fill out the meal.

All day yesterday Mrs. Baker and other women from the congregation worked to "put together the fixin's." By nightfall, there was enough food collected to make a man-sized meal for every man, woman and child who attended.

For Capt. and Mrs. Baker it was a gratifying sight—the vision of sitting down to a meal of gratitude with 59 members of your family circle.

When the meal had ended, the parishioners participated in an "old-fashioned" praise service. The keynote was informality and simplicity.

The key was cooperation.

Cornell Band Involved In Bus Accident

Entered but unbowed, a group of Cornell University bandmen had a banquet at the Penn-Stroud Hotel here Wednesday night en route to the Cornell-Penn game in Philadelphia.

The bandmen on one of the three buses carrying their personnel had been shaken up in a bus accident near Binghamton earlier.

Two of the busloads of students arrived at the local hotel on time. The third bus, which was run off the road by its driver to avoid hitting a parked car in front of him, arrived nearly two hours late for the banquet.

Then the students from the Ithaca, N. Y., college proceeded to Philadelphia and the Thanksgiving Day game.

Nobody won the game, though. It was a tie score—7 to 7.

County Jail Emptied As Six Inmates Report To Blood Unit

The county jail stood empty while six prisoners walked through Stroudsburg on an errand of mercy.

It started with a story in The Daily Record. The prisoners read it Tuesday morning, then sent a spokesman to Sheriff Jacob Altomose.

"We want to give blood—if they want it," the spokesman said.

The sheriff telephoned the bloodmobile officials a little later. "Bring 'em down," he was told.

At 1:30 p. m. the six prisoners left the jail accompanied by Sheriff Altomose and Deputy John Zupp. The cellblock door stood open . . . waiting.

The prisoners walked to the Presbyterian Church, where blood was being taken. Their ages ranged from 20 to 45. One after the other they registered. There was not a single reject.

In a half hour each man had contributed a pint.

Then the group walked back to the jail again. They filed into the cellblock and the iron door clanged shut.

To the Editor of the Stroudsburg Daily Record

Attention Mr. Horace Heller: Dear Sir:

The seemingly arbitrary and unwarranted decision of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission to close and demolish the free bridge south of Portland on Route 46 has aroused the local farmers and businessmen in the surrounding territory who are dependent on the continued use of the bridge, to take concerted action through the medium of various farm and civic organizations that question the legal right of the bridge commission to destroy useful and serviceable public property without the consent of the public, or without due process of law.

While it is true that at the last sessions of both the New Jersey and Pennsylvania legislatures, laws were passed permitting the bridge commission to remove and sell unnecessary buildings, etc., and deposit the returns in the public funds, the laws passed in both states distinctly prohibited the bridge commission from selling either the approaches to the bridges or the bridges themselves. Another factor under consideration is the clause prohibiting the use of any free vehicular bridge across the Delaware River within a radius of ten miles, which was put in the bond issues sold to pay for the new bridges.

This clause was met by a suggestion by the Governor of New Jersey who recommended that passenger cars and light trucks be permitted to continue using the bridge on a toll-paying basis.

When you stop to consider that these bridges, whether free or toll, are now public property, the same as the highways, etc., paid for and maintained by public funds, it seems inconceivable that the public interest in, and use of them should be sacrificed to protect the investments of a comparatively few bond holders whose investments will ultimately be paid back in full by the tolls and taxes collected from the traveling public, plus a substantial additional sum in the form of interest on the initial investment.

This is not a local problem, but one that might affect any community throughout the land if these temporary custodians of public property are permitted to ride roughshod over the interests of the public as a whole for the benefit of a few money-mad, power drunk officials and investors. Let us also consider the potential losses to the farmers and businessmen in the territory affected by the closing and demolition of the bridge in question; losses which in many instances may affect a lifetime's work and savings. Also the fact that the elimination of a serviceable interstate bridge along a well-known and traveled U. S. highway may prove a serious hazard in the event of a national emergency.

Due to the present turbulent state of international relations, a time when the national government is stressing every effort to improve our national preparedness program and civil defense units are being organized in every community; any wanton waste of serviceable public is inexcusable.

In plain English, there is no sense to it.

What do you think?
MORGAN RANSOM.

Five Convicted Of Assaulting Two

Chambersburg (AP)—Five youths 17 to 21 are free on bond today after being convicted of assault and battery on two Lancaster County boys assigned by their draft boards to duty at Mont Alto State Sanatorium as conscientious objectors.

A Franklin County court jury returned the verdict against Arnold G. Barnes, 21; Allen L. Carbaugh, 19; Thomas J. Pukavice, Robert L. Staley and Daniel C. Grove, all 17; from nearby South Mountain.

All five categorically denied attacking Rufus Groff and Wilbur Good, both 20, of Manheim RD 2 on the night of Oct. 5.

Percy Lanterman Recovering From Near-Fatal Attack By Pet Buck; One Of Doe Deer Returns

It was a true Thanksgiving Day for Mrs. Percy Lanterman, East Stroudsburg.

Her husband started recovering from a near-fatal goring by a "pet" seven-point buck.

For a time, after Lanterman was attacked Tuesday morning, it looked like a close thing. The restaurant, who runs the Green Lantern Tearoom on Route 209, was moved deeply in the lower part of the body. He had been putting food in the fenced enclosure for the buck and three does.

Lanterman's cries attracted his wife. By the time she arrived at the stockade gate, Lanterman had managed to drag himself to the entrance. As the buck prepared to attack again, Mrs. Lanterman half-carried her husband toward the house.

The buck followed, but did not attack, Mrs. Lanterman said. "When I got close to the house I got a stick and defied him," said Mrs. Lanterman. "All right, I said to him, 'go ahead!' But the buck kept his distance."

Mrs. Lanterman managed to get her husband into the house. Within minutes he was on his way to East Stroudsburg General Hospital.

The deep, vicious wound was closed with 16 stitches. Later it became gangrenous, and Lanterman was placed on the critical list.

Yesterday, after receiving a drug brought in especially to fight the gangrene, Lanterman's condition went to "good," the hospital said.

For Thanksgiving dinner, Mrs. Lanterman said, the victim had some milk and an orange. "I told him it was a good time to reduce," she chuckled.

The gate of the enclosure has remained open for the animals ever since the incident. All four lit out for the woods while Mrs. Lanterman was taking her husband to the hospital.

Wednesday morning, Mrs. Lanterman looked out her kitchen window to see a familiar animal coming down a hill at rear of the house.

She stepped outside and called, "Emmy!" The doe followed her placidly into the pen.

So far Emmy is the only one that has showed up.

The Lantermans would be glad to have the other two does back. As for the buck—they'd be just as happy if he furnishes a dinner for some huntsman after deer season opens Monday.

Council Calls Meeting On Water Issue

Mount Pocono—A special meeting will be held by Borough Council tonight to hear complaints of protests against water service in the community, according to Harry Taylor, secretary.

The public session will be held at 8 p. m. at the schoolhouse here. Earlier this week council forwarded a batch of statements signed by citizens protesting an increase in water rates sought by the Fairview Water Co., which supplies Mount Pocono's water.

The complaints went to the Public Utilities Commission in Harrisburg, Taylor said.

The hearings tonight, on what kind of service the borough has been getting, is a separate action from the rate increase, though it has a bearing on the rates.

Council has invited borough residents to appear and tell what they think about the water system.

Weather was clear and dry, Mekuta said. Damage was to the left rear-view mirror, the side of the car and the radio aerial, said police, estimated at about $15.

Car Strikes Couple On Route 611

Swiftwater—A man and wife were injured seriously when they reportedly walked into the side of a car while crossing Route 611 here at 7:55 p. m. Wednesday.

Taken to East Stroudsburg General Hospital were William Williams, 60, Buck Hill Falls caretaker, and his wife, Dorothy, 55, who suffered a broken left leg and arm and body cuts and bruises. Williams was treated for cuts on the left hand and chest.

Williams' condition was reported as "good" but his wife was listed as "poor."

Mount Pocono Trooper Joseph Mekuta listed the driver of the sedan as William Freidlin, 34, Scranton salesman, who was driving north.

Police said the couple dismounted from a Maritz bus about opposite the postoffice here, and started walking east across the highway.

Williams told the trooper later that he looked, but saw no cars coming. The couple stepped off the concrete divider in the highway, said police, and walked into

Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis Wagner

John Wagner Of Air Force Weds Nurse In Missouri

John Lewis Wagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wagner, of 584 Main Street, Stroudsburg, has been married to Miss Sarah Ellen Simmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Simmons of Troy, Missouri, and he and his bride have been feasted at a reception at the home of his parents here.

They were married on November 14 in the Sacred Heart Church in Troy, Mo., by Rev. Bart Keany. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over tulle. The full skirt was of two layers of net falling from a lace pelum. The sweetheart neckline and full length sleeves were also of net. Her veil was held by a shell cap of lace over tulle, embroidered with pearls, and she carried a prayer book which had belonged to her grandmother, covered with satin, and with an orchid and streamers.

Miss Patsy Simmons, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor, and Mrs. Marie Cracolici, of 226 Lee Ave., Stroudsburg, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. They wore gowns identical in style but different in color, Miss Simmons in blue and Mrs. Cracolici in pink. They had strapless bodices of velvet with shirred jackets and net skirts over tulle, and wore matching flower headpieces covered with rhinestone veil, short white gloves and ballerina shoes that matched their gowns. They carried colonial bouquets of mums and pompons.

Elton Wagner, of 584 Main St., Stroudsburg, served as his brother's best man. Groomsman was Frank Cracolici, a brother-in-law, of Lee Ave., Stroudsburg; and the ushers were cousins of the bride, William Dunard and Robert Dunard, of Missouri.

The church was decorated with bouquets of chrysanthemums, pompons and gladiolas, and Miss Nancy Johnson, cousin of the bride, sang "On This Day" and "Mother Beloved."

The bride's mother wore a dress of turquoise blue trimmed in black velvet with black velvet accessories and a corsage of white orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of deep purple shading to orchid with black velvet accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the American Legion Hall of Troy, Mo., for more than 100 guests. The hall had been decorated with white crepe paper, pompons and mums, and the bride's table featured a three-tier wedding cake.

After a wedding trip to St. Louis, Miss, with the bride wearing a grey suit dress with white collar and cuffs, white gloves, black accessories and white orchid corsage, Mr. and Mrs. Wagner visited in Stroudsburg.

They were honored at a wedding reception last Monday night at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wagner. A buffet supper was served for about 25 guests. A wedding cake and a big bride doll formed the centerpiece for the table.

They left on Thanksgiving day for Sampson, N. Y., where they will have an apartment close to the Air Force Base where they both have another year in service.

Family Dinner At Jagers Home

Other guests at the dinner were Mr. Jager's mother, Mrs. A. L. Jagers, and Mrs. Jager's sisters, Mrs. Roe Bush and Mrs. Mary Davies and Roe Bush.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Well, I guess many a Stroudsburg fan discovered that turkey and stuffing, cranberry sauce and pumpkin pie go a long way to ease the pangs of a broken heart. Though the distant sounds of triumphant horns patrolling the streets didn't help it go down any easier.

But even victors get hungry, and gradually the towns quieted down as the morning in the open air, and the afternoon at the dinner table combined to make a very somnolent evening.

Actually, I think there was less bitterness, more thrills at the sheer spectacle presented, more ungrudging tribute to the opposing teams than I've seen in many a year.

After having the chills creep up your back as the massed bands played "We Gather Together to Ask the Lord's Blessing"—while the sun glinted from horn and baton, and the wind whipped the flags of the two schools of this country—well—

There was little room for bitterness in either victor or vanquished. And in that I think we have truly a reason for thanksgiving.

Santa At Eastburg Too!

It was just about eleven o'clock yesterday that my telephone rang, and the operator informed me I had a long distance call from the North Pole. For a second I thought I had misunderstood — after all, the television as going full blast, my Little Lady was cheering the Macy Thanksgiving parade, and the boys were in the kitchen cracking nuts with a hammer. It was a typical "quiet holiday at home."

"Who's calling me?" I demanded.

"The North Pole," the operator repeated with a yawn in her voice as though she wondered how dull-witted a person could get. "A gentleman named Santa Claus. Hold the line, please."

A moment later a voice that was bigger than both of us, bubbled over the wire as cheerily as champagne. "Is this the Wyckoff Shopper? It is? Well — this is Santa Claus, and I've been trying to get in touch with Mr. Kerlin or your advertising man, Widmer — but I guess they're away for the holiday. It's about this schedule I just received in my mail. It says I'm to land in my helicopter at the Stroudsburg Playground Friday (THIS) Morning at 10 o'clock, distribute gifts to my little friends, and proceed to the store." He paused for breath.

"Yes, that's the way I understand it," I said. "Good heavens, you haven't changed your mind or anything have you?" There was a prickly sensation at my hairline as though I'd suddenly been confronted by Frankenstein.

His voice was impatient. "It isn't that ... but what about East Stroudsburg? Usually I stop there too, and I guess there must be some sort of mixup. When do I see all of those little folks?"

"Oh that," I said. "Why Santa it's this way—we feel that all your little friends will make the trip to Stroudsburg to watch your arrival—at least we hope so."

Santa was silent for a moment. Then his voice boomed over the wire with a crackle that reminded me of paper burning. "I DON'T LIKE IT," he fumed, "and by bristling holly, I won't agree. Why wasn't I consulted about this?"

Just as quickly as it had appeared, the fury went out of his voice and he was the jovial, cherry Santa remembered from childhood. "How would it be," he suggested, "if after I visit with the boys and girls at the Playground, I drive over to East Stroudsburg station and say hello to my little friends there? Could that be arranged?"

"Of course it can," I agreed. "We'll schedule a stop at the D.L. and W. Station for 11 o'clock or shortly thereafter. It's going to be wonderful seeing you again! I'll be there to watch the plane land. Santa—we're going to do a radio broadcast, and maybe you'll say a few words. All right?"

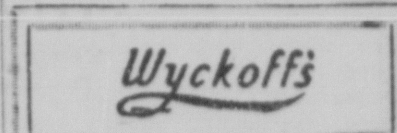

Santa chuckled. "Sometimes I don't hear so well," he remarked. "Anyway I hate microphones."

"But you must have something to say," I persisted.

"Yes I do," he said gaily, "and this is it—GOODBYE!"

There was a click on the other end of the line—but that was understandable. When a plane's warming up in your backyard for a long flight, and a fellow is getting ready for a few thousand miles of travel—and when long distance charges are mounting with the seconds, and you're going to be able to talk face to face in just a few hours, anyway, well—what else was there for him to say ... except Merry Christmas maybe.

Remember, Kiddies, you can see Santa today at 10 a.m. when he arrives at Stroudsburg Playground; at 11 o'clock when he stops at the D.L. and W. Station in East Stroudsburg, and later in the day on his throne at Wyckoff's Toytown. Isn't Christmas wonderful?

Signal Depot To Provide $14,000,000 Annual Payroll

Stroudsburg Lions paid tribute to Thanksgiving this week in regular meeting and heard a Signal Corps Depot official predict that the Tobyhanna operation would mean $14,000,000 annually in payrolls and supply money to the Poconos.

Major speaker was Col. William M. Mack, commanding officer of the Tobyhanna depot's engineering corps.

Mack told the Lions that, although there are four main depots in the nation, only one other (besides Tobyhanna) was constructed specifically for present use.

The Tobyhanna plant is now about "65 per cent complete" overall, the colonel said.

Work on construction there is running slightly behind schedule, Mack said.

Tobyhanna's depot will be a "permanent operation," Mack told the Lions.

A total of "about 1,000 persons" have now been employed at the depot, the colonel said, adding that an estimated 3,000 persons will be employed when the depot is at full strength.

East Stroudsburg Conquers Stroudsburg Foe, 16-7

Cavaliers Settle Battle In Third Period

An underdog East Stroudsburg High grid machine rose up in all its fury at Gordon Giffels Field to strike down favored Stroudsburg yesterday morning, 16-7, before a crowd numbering in the neighborhood of 4,000 people. It was the second win in nine tries for the Cavaliers, while yesterday's host had won on seven occasions.

East Stroudsburg's charging line completely bottled up Stroudsburg's vaunted power, while Joe Chase's deadly passing and the great running of Stan Boorstein and Bernie Fish brought the Cavaliers home in front.

Dick Burch made certain of victory when the big back calmly booted a 14-yard field goal mid-way in the third period, the first one kicked at Gordon Giffels Field since 1946.

East Stroudsburg didn't get rolling until late in the second period, and the winning aggregation was forced to overcome a seven-point deficit.

Stroudsburg, the bigger of the two teams by far, struck through the air for its only score of the day. The Mountaineers held the upper hand most of the first period and began their scoring march on the Eastburg 40.

Karl Weingartner passed to Leon Marable for a first down on the 23, and Marable blasted to the 23. Benny Miller scooted to the 19 and Weingartner was dropped without a gain.

A Weingartner pass fell incomplete, but then the Stroudsburg quarterback heaved to Dave Nevil who grabbed the ball in the end-zone for a touchdown. Weingartner promptly added the extra point to put the Mountaineers in front, 7-0, just before the first quarter passed into history.

March

East Stroudsburg marched from its own 17 to the Stroudsburg 32 early in the second period before the attack stalled. The highlight of the drive was a 19-yard pass from Chase to Fish, as the latter made a great fingertip catch on the 36. Stroudsburg failed to go on its next drive, and East Stroudsburg launched what proved to be the tying march from its own 28.

A long pass by Chase fell incomplete, but Boorstein drove for nine yards and Bob "Red" Kupiszewski banged to a first down on the 38. Fish went to the 41 and then to the 47 after Boorstein had been held without a gain. Boorstein cracked off tackle for a first down on the 43.

Chase, who threw nothing but strikes throughout the ball game, tossed to Jack Anthony on a first down on the Stroudsburg 28. Eastburg was penalized for backfield in motion on the next play, but Chase took the overhead route once again and fired to Fish, who made the touchdown catch all alone in the endzone. Burch calmly booted the extra point to tie the score. The score came with only one minute remaining in the first half.

East Stroudsburg, with the wind at its back, roared into high gear in the third period to inflict virtually all of its damage, as the smaller purple and white colored forward wall outcharged the big Stroudsburg line.

Stroudsburg received the kickoff, but couldn't penetrate the determined East Stroudsburg defense. Roger "Red" Hartmann, a terror on defense all day, broke through and blocked a Weingartner punt with his elbow and East Stroudsburg took over on the host club's 42.

Fish streaked to the 36. Boorstein flashed to the 30 and Chase cranked up the arm once again and pitched a strike to Dick Zukowski for a first down on the 13. Boorstein went to the 11 and then the eight. Fish was held without gain and it appeared as if the Cavaliers had run out of gas.

Burch returned to the game and split the uprights with a field goal of 14 yards, giving the visiting underdogs a 9-7 advantage.

Stroudsburg failed to gain again and Weingartner kicked out of bounds on his own 45.

Final Drive
Fish launched the final East Stroudsburg scoring drive with a five-yard sprint to the 40. A long pass from Chase just missed its mark and Fish drove to the 33. Boorstein gave the Cavaliers a first down on the Stroudsburg 31. Chase fired to Kupiszewski on the 31 and Fish raced to the 18 and another first down.

Chase was tackled on the 24, but Fish juggled the pigskin back to the 18. Burch returned to the game for what appeared another field goal attempt, with Chase holding.

Instead of placing the ball for Burch, Chase stood up and fired to Don Herman for a first down on the Stroudsburg five. Boorstein broke off tackle for a touchdown on the next play. Burch's try for the final extra point was wide of its mark.

Stroudsburg never threatened seriously in the latter part of the third period or in the last quarter. East Stroudsburg marched to the Stroudsburg 31 as the game ended.

Zukowski's recovery of a Stroudsburg fumble at midfield late in the last quarter broke up a march by the Mountaineers.

Texas Keeps Cotton Bowl Hopes Alive

By Orlo Robertson

New York (AP)—The University of Texas Longhorns remained in running for the honor of representing the Southwest Conference in the Cotton Bowl January 1 and Cornell erased any question as to the Ivy League titleholder in the top college football games on the slim Thanksgiving Day program yesterday.

The Longhorns, with little Delano Womack and Charley Brewer leading the tank, defeated the Texas Aggies 21-12 to clinch a tie for the conference crown. Rice and Baylor, tied with Texas until yesterday's triumph, meet Saturday.

If Rice beats Baylor the season will be over for the Longhorns. But if Baylor defeats Rice, Texas can start getting ready for the Cotton Bowl.

Pennsylvania already had conceded the Ivy title to Cornell because the Quakers play only one league opponent but the Ithacans made it without any help by playing Penn to a 7-7 tie. The deadlock proved a rather nebulous ending to George Munger's 16-year career as head coach of Penn. He announced last spring he would retire at the end of the current season—the first losing one in the 44-year old Munger's career at Penn. In the NCAA's nationally televised game, the University of Utah edged underdog Brigham Young 33-32 before 20,189 at Salt Lake City.

Upset

Wade Forest scored twice in the third period to defeat favored South Carolina 19-13. Colgate and Brown played a 7-7 tie in their traditional morning game at Providence, R. I.; Virginia Military whipped Virginia Tech 23-13 with Johnny Mapp scoring three touchdowns; Mississippi Southern tallied twice in the last three minutes for a 33-19 win over Chattanooga and Wyoming and Denver deadlocked at 13-13 and Detroit defeated Wichita 26-6.

Texas' victory, achieved before 42,000 fans, means the Longhorns will be the host team in the Cotton Bowl only if Baylor defeats Baylor, but lost to Rice.

Brigham Young gave Utah a scare before losing by the narrow margin of a fumbled ball on the try for the point after touchdown. The Cougars came from behind three times to tie the score. Don Peterson scored four of Utah's touchdowns and Don James made three of Brigham Young's six points.

Colgate, plagued by fumbles all day, took advantage of a Brown miscue in the last quarter to tie the Bruins. Brown scored in the first period after a Colgate fumble. Pete Bartuska fell on the ball on the 2 but the ball squirted out of his hands into the end zone where teammate Mike Reilly recovered for the TD. Jack Williams, who gained 172 of Colgate's 199 yards rushing, sparked the Red Raiders to the tying tally with Cary Chandler going over.

Miller Suffers Torn Knee Ligament; Faces Operation

Benny Miller, Stroudsburg's hard running halfback, suffered a torn cartilage of the right knee in yesterday's football game against East Stroudsburg High and is currently a patient at the Monroe County General Hospital.

Dr. Evan C. Reese reported last night that the senior gridder would undergo surgery this morning and would be a patient at the hospital for a week or 10 days.

Miller suffered the injury midway in the third period when tackled cleanly by East Stroudsburg's Joe Chase.

Dave Nevil, Stroudsburg end, was also X-rayed at the General Hospital yesterday for possible fractured ribs. An examination of dry X-ray plates today will reveal the true extent of his injuries.

Sideline Oddities Present

Color was present everywhere at yesterday's football "Battle of the Boroughs," but nothing was more colorful than the scarf (maroon no less) worn by Jack Kist, East Stroudsburg coach. Jack had just left a sick bed to coach his team to its second straight victory over Stroudsburg.

Kist had a temperature of 104 on Tuesday, 100 on Wednesday and returned to bed yesterday afternoon. The trouble was listed as virus. Dick Forster, one of Kist's assistants, was on unsteady legs with the same ailment.

The two bands marching as one unit were outstanding once again. They did a marvelous job of entertaining at halftime for the second straight year. There apparently isn't anything like unity.

When Dick Burch missed the final extra point for East Stroudsburg it was the first he failed to convert since taking over the placement duties for the Cavaliers in the Wilson Borough game. Dick had added eight straight before his leg try went wide and low of its mark. Burch's near-perfect field goal in the third period was the first one kicked at Gordon Giffels Field since 1946, when Floyd Raebuck turned the trick for Lehigh.

East Stroudsburg's little mascot is Jack Kist Jr., son of the N. Courtland St. football and baseball mentor.

All 12 of East Stroudsburg's seniors served as captains yesterday and each was present in the middle of the field at the pre-game toss of the coin.

The hatchet was buried after the game as Dick Campeotto, Jim Driebe, Karl Weingartner, Paul "Doc" Lim, Gary Emanuel, Joe Chase, Dick Zukowski, Mike Palmisano, John Verwey and Roger Strouse all had Thanksgiving dinner at the Chase home.

Among the former East Stroudsburg grid greats at yesterday morning's game were John "Juice" Arns, Joe Shea, Dick Merring, George Litts, Dick Transue, Dick London, Carl Smith, Jack Sommers and Jim Fritz.

The Stroudsburg Alumni included John Howe, Byron "Chick" Miller, Emanuel and others.

Officiating at yesterday's Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg grid battle was probably the best of the season.

Picking the most outstanding players in the contest was an even tougher task than it was feared before kickoff time.

Neither team was able to run back a punt. The kicking, due mainly to a rough wind, was far below par for both teams. Each punt was driven out of bounds.

Good sportsmanship prevailed for the most part during the game, but really hit its peak after the contest. East Stroudsburg players didn't boast and Stroudsburg took the licking like real men.

Stroudsburg gridriders were honored at a pre-game breakfast at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

East Stroudsburg took color films of the ninth annual "Battle of the Boroughs."

Wall Shoots Even Par In Columbia Open

Ft. Jackson, S. C. (AP)—Veteran Ed Furgol of St. Louis, Mo., and youthful Dick Knight of Omaha, Neb., tied for the first round lead yesterday in the $10,000 Columbia Open gold tournament with blazing 65's, seven strokes under par for the 7,000-yard armed forces course.

Smooth-swinging Bob Gajda of Detroit, Mich., was only one stroke behind them with 66. "Buddy" Godwin of Asheville, N. C., was a close third with 67.

All told, 36 of the 133 starters finished the first 18 holes under par for an amazing low scoring spree. Fourteen others, including three amateurs, shot an even par 72.

Remarkable

The many low scores were more remarkable in view of the cold, penetrating southwest wind that blew from shortly before noon.

Scores of Pennsylvania entries included:

Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, 37-35-72; Lew Worsham, Oakmont, 36-36-72; Willie Polumbo, Kennett Square, 36-36-72; Angelo Paul Jeffersonville, 38-36-74; Henry Williams Jr., Reading, 38-37-75; Al Keeping, Bridgeport, 41-36-77; John Serafin, West Pittston, 38-38-76.

Wall is one of the youngest and most promising golfers on the pro circuit.

Boorstein, Weingartner, Chase, Campeotto, Nevil, Hartmann To See Army-Navy Tussle

Six local high school football players, three from Stroudsburg and the same number from East Stroudsburg High school, will be guests at the Army-Navy football game at Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium tomorrow.

Stan Boorstein and Karl Weingartner, East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg respectively, were named the outstanding players in the game and each received two tickets to the service classic. Boorstein runs from halfback for the Cavaliers and Weingartner guides the Mountaineers from quarterback.

An additional prize of two tickets to the same game, one for each team, was given to the players second in the value column according to the committee.

Joe Chase, who passed brilliantly and tackled hard all day, was named from East Stroudsburg, while Dick Campeotto, 230-pound Stroudsburg tackle, was selected for the Mountaineers.

The selection of an outstanding lineman for each team was rewarded with one ticket each to the service classic. Dave Nevil, Stroudsburg end, and Roger "Red" Hartmann, East Stroudsburg tackle, were the outstanding linemen selected.

Two tickets for each of the most valuable players were donated by Gerald P. O'Neill, Stroudsburg hotel owner, and Marty Baldwin, well known local sportsman. O'Neill also donated tickets for the second most valuable selections. Tickets may be picked up at the Daily Record office today, after 6 p.m.

O'Neill, Baldwin and Jim Riley, sports editor of The Daily Record, formed the committee making the choices. All selections were by a unanimous vote. Tickets may be picked up at the Daily Record office today, after 6 p.m.

Brass To Witness Academies

By Tom Bradshaw
Philadelphia, (AP)—Without a presidential guest of honor for their 34th gridiron command performance, Army needs Navy here Saturday in what promises to be a better than average mule-and-gent fight.

Both coaches—Army's Earl Blaik and Navy's Eddie Erdelatz—claimed the underdog role but the ball handling magic of end-quarterback Pete Vann gave Army a slight pre-game margin.

President Eisenhower will not be among the better than 102,000 on hand for the 1:30 p.m. (EST) opening kickoff at Municipal Stadium. He is vacationing at Augusta, Ga., spinning football for his greater love, golf.

The Washington contingent will be led by Defense Secretary Wilson. Also coming to Philadelphia will be Secretary of the Army Robert Stevens; Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff, and Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

Opening Round

Blaik fired the opening round in the claim and counter claim battle early this week when he said "this is the best Navy team since 1944."

Erdelatz bounced right back with "this is the best Army team since 'Doc' Blanchard-Glenn Davis team." Erdelatz has good reason to remember Army's great fullback-halfback combination. Blanchard and Davis were stars of the 1946 West Point team that nosed out Navy 21-18. Erdelatz was assistant Navy coach at that time.

The only thing everyone seemed to agree on was that Vann is the player to spot. Those watching the game on television (NBC) at 1:30 p.m. (EST), will do well to keep their eyes on the 180-pounder wearing Army's number 10.

Vann, who hails from Hamburg, N. Y., has been developing as the cadet signal caller since the start of the season. At present reading he is rated one of the most masterful ball handlers in collegiate circles. His handoffs, fakes and passes sometimes fool even the television cameramen.

While Army employs the T-formation strictly, Navy uses both the straight "T" and the split-T with George Welsh of Coaldale, Pa., calling signals.

hand of Slaters to ever win three straight games from Pen Argyl, its arch rival.

The win also retired the Ike Resh trophy, as the award won three times by one team goes into its permanent possession. Pen Argyl retired the last trophy in 1950.

Bangor completely dominated yesterday's encounter although the visiting charges of Coach Granville Evans could never break through the Pen Argyl defense after the opening period.

Pen Argyl never seriously threatened to score, in fact the Green Wave never advanced into Bangor territory. Midway in the second period the home charges of Coach Harry Mervine made a first down, its only one of the game, exactly on the midfield stripe. But, on the next play Rodney Miller intercepted a pass by Sam Lobb to halt the very mild threat.

Bangor began its initial march from its own 40 early in the first period and rolled right to the Pen Argyl six, but was penalized to the 31.

Duane Miller picked up four yards in two tries and Mike DeVito, who averaged seven yards per carry yesterday, blasted to the one. The Green Wave stiffened and held Bangor inches short of a first down on the next play.

Pen Argyl ran one play to the two, but Al Itterly fumbled on the next try and DeVito fell on the ball on the one yard line. Itterly suffered a leg injury on this play and left the game for the remainder of the afternoon.

Rodney Miller blasted across the goal line on the next play for the only score of the game. Ed Mugaever's attempted placement for the extra point was wide to the left.

An intercepted pass halted another drive by Bangor in the first period and a stiff Pen Argyl defense stopped Bangor on the home team's 19 in the second round.

The Slaters rolled to the Pen Argyl 20 and 18 on two fourth quarter drives, but were halted by a fumble and intercepted pass respectively.

Pen Argyl's only display of "wide-open" football game in the fading moments of the ball game when the home team gambled on two long heaves, anyone of which, if caught, could have meant a touchdown.

On defense Pen Argyl was never able to break through the Bangor line or around its ends for any sizeable gains.

The win was the 14th of the series for Bangor, while Pen Argyl has won 17 contests. Three of the battles have ended in deadlocks.

Drama, Color Present At Weona Park

Pen Argyl — Bangor and Pen Argyl cheerleaders continued their colorful tradition of exchanging flowers at halftime of yesterday's football game between the two schools.

Nick Castellucci, Jack Finelli and Louis Casciano, all injured Bangor gridders, were adding encouragement to their mates from the sideline, although none were in uniform. Finelli expects to keep the heavy cast on his ankle, broken in the Nazareth game, for five more weeks.

The main topic of conversation along the sidelines and during the crowd at halftime was East Stroudsburg's 16-7 win over Stroudsburg and the 20-20 stalemate between Wilson Borough and Nazareth. The tie left Wilson and Nazareth all even as far as the Lehigh-Northampton League football title is concerned.

Rodney Miller and Palmer Cotturo served as co-captains for the game for Bangor, while Al Itterly and Mike Flood co-captained the Pen Argyl squad. Rodney Miller and Nick Castellucci earlier in the week were elected honorary co-captains for the season by their mates.

Jack Morris, captain and star lineman of this season's East Stroudsburg State Teachers College football team, was in the crowd, as was Dick Pritchard, former Bangor High grid star and a famous football and baseball name on the ESSTC campus.

Most of the East Stroudsburg High grid machine was present for the second half as spectators.

Granville Evans has never lost to Pen Argyl since being named head grid mentor at Bangor. He has won three times.

Itterly was forced from the Pen Argyl lineup early in the first period with an ankle injury. Duane Miller suffered an arm injury and Nick Martocci came up with a damaged ankle in the first half, but both returned to action in the third period.

Bangor was by far the larger of the two teams, but the Slaters had trouble running against defensive minded Pen Argyl. A first period recovery of a fumble and a one yard plunge was the difference between victory and an apparent tie for the Slaters.

East Stroudsburg Only One Of Several High School Elevens To Win Traditional Contest

By Dick Hoenig
Harrisburg (AP) — Thanksgiving Day 1953 provided a typical upset-splashed final curtain yesterday for this year's Pennsylvania scholastic football parade. Bitter neighborhood rivalries in which anything can and usually does happen brought defeat and the end of championship hopes to several elevens. At the same time victories in the "big one" of every year produced a highly successful season end for Reading, Scranton Tech, West Hazleton, East Stroudsburg, Steelton and Harrisburg John Harris.

Pottstown High overwhelmed Downingtown 25-0 to clinch the Chesmont pennant with a conference record of four wins against a defeat and a tie. Scranton Tech, which trailed Philadelphia Northeast punched out a 12-7 decision over Philadelphia Central for its ninth straight triumph and the Quaker City's Public League crown. That qualified Northeast for the city championship playoff December 5 against St. James of Chester, the Philadelphia Catholic League victor.

Surprise
An amazing Dunmore eleven that has won only once in nine starts, repeated its 1952 Thanksgiving Day stunt by holding highly favored West Scranton to a 6-6 tie. Last year the result prevented the invaders from taking both Lackawanna and East Penn North Division championships and it is likely to do the same again.

Scranton Tech, which trailed

West in the Northern Division standings until yesterday, slipped past Scranton Central, 2-0, for the win that seemingly puts the Red Raiders into the driver's seat.

Surprise victory by Coaldale over Lansford, Newport Twp. over Berwick apparently gave Schuylkill Haven the Southern Division championship. Schuylkill Haven and Pottsville finished their conference schedules last week in a dead heat so results of games involving their opponents decides the outcome in the league's complicated point rating system.

East Stroudsburg ended one of its most successful seasons by dumping Stroudsburg 16-7. Steelton took the measure of Williamsport 7-0.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

East Stroudsburg threw everything except a safety into the scoring column yesterday as an underdog crew from N. Courtland St. swept to a 16-7 football victory over Stroudsburg High at Gordon Giffels Field. The victory meant the end of a highly successful grid campaign for the kids that came from the ground up, while the loss brought the sky falling down on a band of Mountaineers, who only a few short weeks ago were eyeing the Lehigh Valley League football championship. Somebody had to lose and yesterday it was Stroudsburg.

This East Stroudsburg contingent did everything right yesterday, scoring through the air, on the ground and on the big right toe of Dick Burch, the junior student from N. Courtland St. who became the first player in the history of the scrap for the "Little Brown Jug" to add a three-pointer from the field. The kick actually took place from the Stroudsburg 14 and adding 10 yards for the end zone the boot carried 34 yards and cut the cross bars in half. The Mountaineers never seemed to recover from the blow.

East Stroudsburg rode to victory on an outstanding display of teamwork, seven hard working linemen and four backs who hadn't yet learned the meaning of the word "stop". The Cavaliers up front continually outcharged the big Stroudsburg forwards, driving low and true on their targets, while the backs scampered through the big holes blasted in the Stroudsburg line. On defense the lighter Eastburg line couldn't be moved, although outweighed in many cases 20 pounds to the man. The Mountaineers couldn't run the ends, couldn't crack the center and except for one instance the downfield pass receivers were covered like bandits at police headquarters.

The Cavaliers held the Stroudsburg ends, while tackles John Verwey and Roger "Red" Harman and guards Mike Palmisano, Bill Dimmick and Nick Patella bore the shock of the attack when the maroon and white runners were turned inside. East Stroudsburg's line backs, Stan Boorstein, Bob "Booster" Miller and Don Herman, also stood like the Rock of Gibraltar, while the secondary did its job far above normal. The only time an end got away from the Eastburg defense all day resulted in Stroudsburg's only touchdown, as Karl Weingartner passed to Dave Nevil.

Eastburg's attack was operating to such perfection yesterday that it reminded one of a pro ball club. Chase's passing, the running of Boorstein and Bernie Fish and the field goal by Burch had one comparing the Cavaliers and the scoring methods used by the modern play-for-pay boys. The Cavaliers were up for this game, higher than they had climbed for any encounter this season, and they have been nearly sky high for such foes as Slatington, Wilson Borough and Nazareth. It was a club that wasn't to be denied.

As mentioned several times previously, this current edition of the Cavaliers was very lightly regarded at the beginning of the present campaign. It was the general consensus of opinion that the 1953 charge, of Coach Jack Kist would win two games, maybe three, and that this wasn't the year as far as the annual gridiron clash with Stroudsburg was concerned. All this was said without once consulting the players or finding out the fact that this N. Courtland St. contingent was long on spirit, if not ability.

Spirit was very much in evidence yesterday as the Cavaliers fought back from a seven-point deficit and then took the play completely away from the favored Mountaineers in the second half. It was a comeback story for such purple and white color bearers as Chase and Boorstein, and the fitting end of scholastic grid careers for 12 seniors. Chase played the greatest game of his career, as he completed five of nine passes and ran the Cavaliers like a maverick. This is the same Chase who played almost entirely on defense last season.

Boorstein, the youngster everyone had billed for a great season, has been hampered by leg injuries almost all of this season. But yesterday Stan finished in a blaze of glory, as he ran in predicted form against the Mountaineers. Fish, who also ran brilliantly all day and didn't win an Army-Navy ticket only because there weren't enough to go around, also wrote finish to a fine career by scoring his ninth touchdown of the campaign on a pass from Chase in the second period. Bernie caught the ball in the "bread basket" after making a "catcher's glove" pocket with his knees, arms and chest. The youngster took no chances.

A second period pass catch by Fish was probably one of the most sensational plays of the game, as he grabbed a bullet-like aerial on his finger tips while falling to the ground, but held it for a healthy gain. Everything went well for the Cavaliers as they rolled to their second straight victory, after suffering seven consecutive setbacks at the hands of the Mountaineers.

Adelmann One Of Six Lettermen Returning To Pennsylvania Military College Cage Squad

Chester—Six lettermen, including three of last year's starters, are among the candidates bidding for berths on the basketball team at Pennsylvania Military College. Thirty-five men reported for the initial sessions early this week but PMC's new mentor, Franny Gallagher, already has whittled the number down to 24. Gallagher, who is coaching his first college cage team, says he will carry 12 men on his varsity and an equal number on the junior varsity so all that remains is for the 24 to battle for positions on either squad.

Half of the varsity spots undoubtedly will go to the returning lettermen who are Jody Ambrosino and Jack Klotz, a pair of sophomores from Chester; Carl Adelmann, a junior from Stroud-burg; John Henry, a junior from Pottstown; Joe Hoara, a sophomore from Marcus Hook and Bill Applegate, a senior from Hamilton Square, N. J.

In this sextet, Gallagher has the foundation of a good varsity five. All of these lads except Henry are six feet tall or better and the Pottstown war veteran Adelmann was the regular center last year, alternating there with Klotz, while Henry and Applegate comprised the Cadet guard combination along with Hearn. Ambrosino backed up high scorers Earl Wentzel and Larry Rusiewicz, both of whom graduated last Spring.

Cornell Battles Favored Penn To Deadlock, 7-7

Philadelphia, (AP)—Penn's only 1953 invasion of the Ivy League wound up in a 7-7 tie with traditional rival Cornell yesterday in as tough a battle as the Quakers experienced, in any of their eight previous football games this season.

The deadlock proved a rather nebulous ending to George Mungler's 16-year career as head coach at Pennsylvania.

The only scoring came in the second quarter when Penn's Joe Varaitis went over the one on his fifth line plunge in five plays from the Cornell 19. Quarterback Eddie Gramigna converted a give the two-touchdown favored Quakers a 7-0 lead.

Strikes Back
Cornell's sophomore-dominated squad struck back midway through the same period with a 60-yard pass and run play from Herb Bool Phoenix, Ariz. junior, to sophomore Bruce Brenner, which carried the ball to Penn's one. Bool stepped across on the next play on a quarterback sneak and Jim Van Buren of Atlanta, Ga., converted the tying point.

Scranton Rolls Over Hofstra, 20-6

Hempstead, N. Y., (AP)—Junior halfback Jim Lavery scored twice and gained 210 yards yesterday to lead the University of Scranton to a 20-6 victory over Hofstra before 2,370 fans.

Lavery, for the past two seasons, one of the east's top ground gainers, scored twice within a matter of minutes in the fourth quarter, going 35 yards up the middle for the first touchdown and skirting left end for 11 yards for the second. Rudy Blaneone and Joe McGlynn added the extra points.

Fast Start
Scranton got off to a fast start, scoring on its second possession in the first quarter when Lavery uncorked a pass to Joe Loughney who caught the ball in the end zone.

Hofstra's touchdown came with only about a minute left in the game. Tom Nunziata, a junior halfback, plunged over from the one after Don Rini had broken through the Scranton line for an 84 yard romp up the middle.

Though greatly outweighed by the Royals, Hofstra's line came through with four goal line stands which kept the game from becoming a complete romp.

Lions Take Step Toward Title By Downing Green Bay

Detroit, (AP)—A spectacular 97-yard touchdown pass from Bobby Layne to end Cloyce Box brought the Detroit Lions to life in the third quarter yesterday and they rolled over the Green Bay Packers, 34-15, in their annual Thanksgiving Day game in Briggs Stadium.

This touchdown pulled the sluggish Lions to within one point of the Packers at 15-14 and just two and a half minutes later, Detroit took the lead for good when Bob Hoernschmeyer scored on a 41-yard jaunt around right end.

More Scoring
In whipping the Packers for the ninth straight time, the Lions added 13 points in the final period on Gene Gedman's four-yard touchdown run and 22-yard and 25-yard field goals by guard Jim Martin.

The victory gave the Lions a firm hold on first place in the Western Conference of the National Football League. It was their eighth win against two losses and left them within two games of clinching their second straight divisional championship.

Los Angeles, which holds second place with a 6-2-1 record, meets the Chicago Bears Sunday.

Lattner Named Player Of Year

New York, (AP)—Johnny Lattner, Notre Dame's brilliant halfback, was rated as the college "player of the year" and tackle Stan Jones of Maryland as the "linebacker of the year" by a board of coaches selecting the 1953 Collier's Magazine all-star team.

Forward Wall

Lattner heads up a mainly-midwestern backfield with Paul Giel of Minnesota, J. C. Caroline, the Illinois sophomore flash, and Paul Cameron of UCLA.

was selected as the outstanding player in a line composed of Steve Meilinger of Kentucky and Don Dohoney of Michigan State at the ends; Jones and Jim Smith of Baylor at the tackles; Bob Fleck of Syracuse and Crawford Mims of Mississippi at the guards and Larry Morris of Georgia Tech at center.

Selections were based on the observations and votes of the members of the American Football Coaches Association, supervised by a nine-man board of prominent coaches.

Community Gives Thanks At Services

The annual community Thanksgiving service conducted Wednesday night in Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, under the auspices of the East Stroudsburg Ministerium, attracted a throng of worshippers into the sanctuary to return gratitude to God for His blessings.

The East Stroudsburg High School Girls Chorus, under the direction of Miss Claire Hughes, sang special Thanksgiving anthems and Miss Vivian Amhurst of the State Teachers College was guest soprano soloist.

Rev. Frank W. Wingerter, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church delivered the Thanksgiving sermon on the theme, "Grounds For Gratitude," using the 40th Psalm as the basis for his message. Pastors Savage, Hostetter, Eaton, Baker and Wunder took part in the liturgical service. Members of the Cavalier football team served as ushers.

At 8 a.m. on Thanksgiving, a prayer and praise service of thanksgiving also under the auspices of the East Stroudsburg Ministerium was held in the sanctuary of the Baptist Church with Captain Baker of the Salvation Army Citadel preaching the sermon on the theme, "Christian Joy."

Captain Baker used Paul's Letter to the Philippians as the scriptural background for his message. The pastors of the ministerium participated in the service and a congregation representative of all East Stroudsburg churches was present.

Three Steps Necessary To Fight Moths

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER

(AP Real Estate Editor)

How to make a myth out of a moth is a favorite conversational project for some coffee table scientists. You've probably heard them tell of how destruction wrought by a moth is greatly exaggerated. But when you took your woollens and furs out of storage this season and found holes eaten in them, you began to wonder how one little bug could have such a big appetite.

It takes sad experience to learn about the conduct of moths. This writer's father happens to know a lot about moths—from more than a half-century's observation—so he is on speaking terms with moths. He explains the argument that a moth is harmless, because it actually is harmless. No flying moth ever ate the felt from under the keys of Paderewski's piano. But the worms hatched from the 100 or more eggs laid by each of these dainty flutterbys have eaten the felt right off the hammers of many pianos.

Three steps are necessary to get rid of moths:

1. Kill the moth—the little yellowish variety with about a half-inch wing spread. Bigger varieties are beautiful but dumb and harmless.

2. Get rid of their eggs by frequent beating, brushing and airing of clothes in bright sunlight only—or by dry cleaning.

3. Store clothes where a fumigant or aroma in a virtually airtight place will kill any newly hatched larvae. Partly or fully developed worms are harder to kill.

L. L. of Stamford, Conn., who operates a men's clothing store, writes to this department: "I have a cedar clothes closet in its natural state, but it has lost all of its aroma. What can I do about it?"

Closets or chests lined with aromatic cedar have been effective against moth damage when they are tightly constructed with weatherstripped doors and when clothes are free from eggs and worms when stored. The reason cedar works is that its aroma kills newly hatched worms. Older and tougher worms will survive and chew.

But the oil from the cedar sometimes hardens on the surface with age and closes the pores of the wood. In these cases a light sanding with a fine grade of production paper every year or so will open up the surface, release the aroma and give the cedar a fresh, clean appearance.

For a really effective cedar closet, use lining at least 1/2-inch thick. Use it on the floor, ceiling and door as well as on the walls. All crevices must be closed tightly, but paint, varnish or finish of any kind will seal the pores of the wood and destroy its effectiveness. If you have cedar which has been painted or varnished, you can bring out its natural aroma by sanding it down to the natural wood.

Moth-proof bags, commonly sold, cannot be effective if they have any openings, no matter how small. They can't be moth-proof if a clothes hanger hook protrudes from the top, unless the hanger hole is tightly sealed. Porous bags or containers or moth crystals then must be hung in such bags.

Naphthalene and paradichlorobenzene—the two common chemicals used in moth flakes—release vapors of fumigating powers. When a room or closet is sealed, these vapors will fall to the floor and smother insects. Carbon tetrachloride is another safe fumigant. Placed in an open dish on a top shelf it will release vapors falling to the floor. A pound will fumigate a 4 by 5 foot closet.

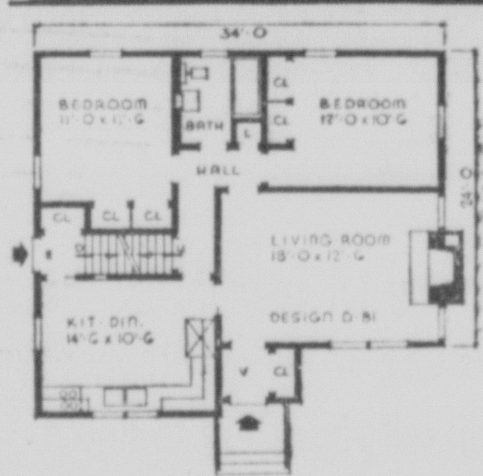

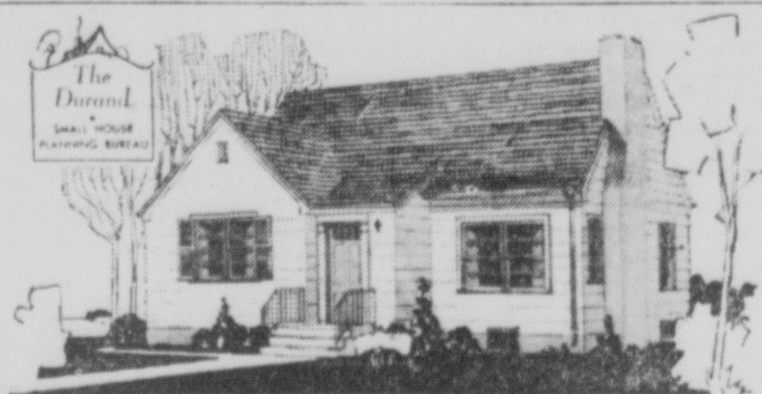

Sprays applied with the usual household appliances have not been rated entirely effective. Power spraying is needed.

It's a good idea to set aside an adequate closet for storage of unused clothing during the moth season. This closet can be sealed and charged with fumigant vapors.

Among things found to be worthless in the battle against moths are tobacco, lavender petals, pepper, borax, cedar leaves—or what superstition have you?

Never Shake Varnish

Never shake a can of varnish before use as this will cause air bubbles to form in the varnish. If such bubbles are encountered when doing a job of varnishing, break them up with a brush.

THE DURAND working drawings call for frame construction throughout, full basement, wide siding, brick fireplace, asphalt shingles, concrete steps, and wrought iron railings.

By placing a dormer in the rear, two bedrooms can be finished on the second floor, in addition to those shown on the first floor. The kitchen, with cross light and ventilation, is located in the front, convenient to the entrance and opening into the bedroom hall. There is ample space for dining in the kitchen. The sink is under the windows, refrigerator on the inside wall and stove at the end of the kitchen counter.

Closet space is provided by the wardrobe type closets in the bedrooms, coat closets for the entrances and the linen closet in the bedroom hall.

Dimensions are 34 feet by 24 feet. Area equals 816 square feet, cubage 19,727 cubic feet.

U. S. Going To Dogs -- And Cats

New York (AP) — Families in the United States have about as many cats and dogs as they do children. This bit of Americana was brought out yesterday by a survey of the country's pet population.

It turns out there are nearly 50 million cats and dogs getting underfoot in the nation's homes, along with about 50 million youngsters under 18.

The figures, gathered by National Family Opinion, Inc., a research organization of Toledo, Ohio, report that the animal kingdom is taking up a big share of the human domain.

In fact, there are more dogs and cats—49.3 million of them—than there are American households—only 41 million.

This means, if you can believe statistics, that there are 1.2 dogs and—or cats, in the average home.

Cats outnumber dogs by 26.7 million to 22.6 million. But it's just that more people have fewer dogs, while fewer people have more cats. But perhaps a more socially significant finding, to the quadruped at least, is the way the cats are going to the country, and the dogs going to the cities.

Altogether, 49 per cent of the cats (13.2 million of them) live on farms, while only 50 per cent of the dogs (6.9 million) are farm dwellers.

5 x 5 Feet Minimum Bath Size

If necessary, all the fixtures for a bathroom can be installed in a space as small as 5x5 feet, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau. However, the bureau points out, this is a minimum size, hardly adequate for a family bathroom. A space 6x8 is better.

Another alternative, if space for a complete bathroom cannot be found, is to install lavatories in bedrooms. This will divert much traffic from the bathroom, thus speeding up family routine.

Another possibility is the installation of twin lavatories in an existing bathroom.

Fire-Resistant Materials Best For Basement

Since most home fires start in the basement, fire hazards for the whole house can be reduced by incorporating fire-resistant materials in the basement.

As the ceiling is especially vulnerable, it should be of plaster, gypsum board or other fire-resistant material. Even in an unfinished basement, the ceiling above the heating unit should have this protection.

In partitioning off the heating plant from the rest of a finished basement, only fire-resistant materials should be used. These cost no more than combustible materials, but will prevent fire spreading should the furnace develop defects or become overheated.

Because flames rush up stairwells with lightning speed, a metal door, or solid wood door clad with metal, and equipped with a self-closing device so that it will not be left open inadvertently, should be provided at the foot of the stairway.

Keep Water In Pool In Winter

It is not a good idea to drain the water out of concrete garden pools because this may cause the sides to crack. It's better to keep the pool full of water and cover it over to prevent freezing. Another method is to toss a few small logs into the water. The logs will absorb the expansion when ice forms and prevent the sides of the pool from cracking.

Worn Screw Holes Around Hinges Are Easily Fixed

A common annoyance around a home is the frequency with which screws become loosened, especially those holding hinges or other moving devices.

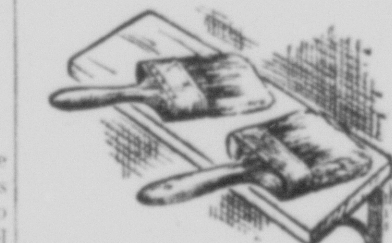

Most satisfactory way to overcome this, if the worn screw hole is large, is to cut a wooden peg to fit the hole, coat it with wood glue and drive the peg firmly into the hole. After the glue has set, cut off any portion of the peg projecting above the surface and drive the screw into it. Plastic wood packed tightly into the hole serves in the same manner, but this material must be allowed to harden for 24 hours.

If the screw hole is small, steel wool worked into the opening will provide a holding surface for the screw when it is driven back into the hole.

When the wood is thick enough, substitute a longer or slightly thicker screw. The extra or wider threads will bite into new wood and hold fast.

Smoothing Plaster

Rough-finished plaster can be smoothed out by rubbing it with a piece of firebrick.

Children Of Community Await Santa's Arrival By Helicopter

By James B. Gaffney

While youngsters unbuckled their belts after yesterday's hefty meal, then settled down with the wish-bone, inching their thumb toward the top hoping for the victory giving them double the expected Christmas toys, the bewhiskered chap was preparing for his flight to Stroudsburg today.

James B. Gaffney

Arriving at playgrounds at 10 a.m., Santa will climb from a helicopter, be met by an escort and taken to the far end of the field where a platform has been erected.

The ceremony, sponsored by Stroudsburg's A. B. Wyckoff Department Store, will be highlighted by the welcome to Santa by E. H. Wyckoff and subsequent motorcade to the local store where Nick will reign until Christmas.

At the playground some 30 store employees will augment a force of police and firemen to handle the expected large crowd. James Somers, serving as co-chairman of this phase with Harold Albert, said barricades will be erected to hold back the audience and asked the public's cooperation.

On the platform, Santa will chat with the youngsters and get an earful of the toys he's expected to carry down the chimney. Starting at 9:45 a.m., Madelyn Maloney, the Wyckoff Shopper, will broadcast from the field, and with Santa's arrival 15 minutes later, the WVPO airing will continue until 10:15.

Once at the store Santa will remain until Saturday, then start his annual trek to schools. Monday he visits Clearview, Ansonia, Portland and Delaware, N. J.; Tuesday, Barrett, Paradise, East Bangor and Washington Township; Wednesday, Bushkill, Middle Smithfield, Pen Argyl and Wind Gap; Thursday, Long Pond, Pocono Lake, Coolbaugh, Mount Pocono, Tannersville and Redders; Friday, Chestnuthill and Hamilton Consolidated and Monday, Dec. 7, Eldred Consolidated, Kunkletown.

Beginning Dec. 16 the local store will be open until 9 p.m. daily, excepting Dec. 24 when it closes at 5:30.

John and Mary Witte, popular owners of Witte's Sea Food Market, announced this week they are retiring after 31 years in business. The couple will continue assisting Pat Civile and Sal Gristo until the new owners are acclimated.

Mrs. Witte, native of Stroudsburg, grew up with the business since her father conducted a sea food and produce market many years. John, a native of Brazil, and Mary started their first store on Lower Main St., moved later to Seventh St., then to 730 Main St. and finally, five years ago, to their present location, the rear of 723 Monroe St.

The new owners are New Yorkers who expect to bring their families here soon to reside. Gristo is owner of Maple Lawn Inn, Cresco, purchasing that place in 1945. He is a member of Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau and Pennsylvania Hotel Association. He is married and the father of 12-year-old Arlene.

His brother-in-law, Pat Civile, has been in the sea food business 15 years, formerly working with a firm at the famed Fulton St. Market, New York. He is the father of four-year-old Linda.

The new owners plan to continue the retail business conducted by the Wittes and also resume the wholesale work which the retiring couple discontinued in 1947. They are installing a new freezer and expect to handle all types of fish, fresh and frozen.

A Stroudsburg RD 3 woman has been named one of 100 junior and senior finalists in the fifth nationwide recipe and baking contest of Pillsbury Mills, and heads for New York for the finals Dec. 14.

Mrs. Arthur A. George earned the chance to win $25,000 plus kitchen equipment as the grand prize when she competes with 79 other women from all parts of the country at the Waldorf Astoria ballroom.

Over $100,000 will be given in prizes to 80 women and 20 girls, each selected for her entry. Mrs. George won the nod for an unusual cake recipe which she says she originated for her family.

E. P. Rock, Pillsbury branch manager for this area and M. J. Malloy, district representative presented Mrs. George with $100 this week and arranged for an all-expense paid trip to New York.

Even mere man is interested in the coiffuring of women's hair, as evidenced Wednesday night when a fair turnout of the male species witnessed a hair style show presented in East Stroudsburg American Legion auditorium by Mary Aileen's Shoppe.

The plot was built around a group trip to the metropolis with models from the Stroudsburgs and Bangor taking part. Culminating the show was a "wedding" in which the bridal party passed down the aisle to exhibit the various hairdos to spectators.

Mrs. Arthur Weist was pianist and Mary Aileen sang. Models were Mrs. Betty Stoner, Mrs. George Carson, Mrs. Bess Patterson, Mrs. V. Comunale, and the Misses Dolly Comunale, Kathy Palmer, Emily Everts, Norma Ace, Donna Schraugh, Virginia Comunale, Ann Miller, Betty Miller, Joy

Merrig, Beverly Rual and Barbara Rothstein.

Doctors Lead Discussion At Club Session

Physician members of the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club gave a panel discussion of phases of their profession under the theme, "Doctors Talk It Over" at Wednesday afternoon's meeting at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Dr. Claus G. Jordan, program chairman and moderator, stated the real subject was doctors' dilemma or changes in the medical world in the past 20 years. Speaking particularly of surgery, he told of improvements in fields such as anasthesia, blood transfusions, antibiotics and aid of pathologists. Instead of being bedfast for a couple of weeks following surgery in the past, now patients are permitted to get up six hours later.

Dr. Paul H. Shiffer, radiologist, gave a review of x-ray and the part played in determining ailment of patients. X-ray, he said, has been practiced 58 years. He noted that 20 years ago there were only three machines in the county, now there are great numbers. The speaker told of improvements in the field in the local hospital, the great number of patients treated and high cost of equipment.

Speaking along the line of economies in medicine, Dr. Thomas I. Metzgar dwelt particularly on volunteer health insurance and the Blue Cross. There are 85 million persons covered by the former, he said. Ten million, the speaker said, are not interested in hospital care. There are 78 different types of insurance for medical care in the United States, according to the speaker.

Dr. Charles S. Flagler, the last speaker on the panel, traced the part doctors played in the far distant past which led to the great development evident today. There were periods when advance bogged down to almost zero, he said, but progress in medicine in the past 50 years has been so rapid doctors are kept busy trying to keep pace.

Parke W. Kunkle, president, complimented Stiles Baldwin and all others for their part in the success of the Community Chest campaign which had exceeded its goal. A get well card was signed by the members for Chester S. Miller who was on the sick list.

Harry Sutton was welcomed back from a Florida vacation. While down there he attended meetings of the Boca Ciego and St. Petersburg clubs.

Alan Keiper, chairman of Boys and Girls committee, told of plans for the annual Christmas party next month when underprivileged boys and girls will be the guests and receive gifts. The committee will meet Monday night at the hotel to make plans.

President-elect Dr. C. W. Dupee and A. F. Everett, secretary, will attend the divisional conference at Bethlehem Saturday morning.

Robert Bollino, convention chairman for the sessions of the Marine Corps League here in June, was welcomed as a guest.

More Businesses Operating In County Than In U.S. Generally; Total Now Stands At 797

(Special to the Record)
New York — Monroe County supports more business enterprises in proportion to its size, than do most counties in the United States. This is shown in data just being released jointly by two Federal agencies, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Department of Commerce.

In Monroe County there are 23 businesses in operation — small, medium or large — for every 1,000 residents. This represents a greater concentration of such activity than is found throughout the United States generally, where the average is 19 businesses for every 1,000 people. In the State of Pennsylvania there are 17 enterprises per 1,000.

The figures were gleaned from the tax reports submitted by employers for the first quarter of 1951 under the Old Age and Survivors Insurance program.

A total of 797 businesses, a gain over the 707 recorded in the previous (1948) survey, is shown to be operating in the county. This is exclusive of one-man establishments. Of the number, 483 have three employees or less. Those with four to seven workers number 159 and the ones with eight to 19 total 89. The remainder are larger companies.

Small business is well established in Monroe County, the figures indicate. There are 731 firms, or 92 percent of the total, with less than 20 employees each.

This is a greater concentration than is found elsewhere in the country, where small business represents 91 percent of the number of going businesses. In the State of Pennsylvania businesses of such size comprise 89 per cent of the total.

Gainful employment is provided by the county's business places for 9,192 people, as compared with 7,596 on the payrolls at the time of the previous tabulation. The figures represent only those engaged in non-public employment and subject at the time to the social security tax program. Excluded, in addition to public employees, are the self employed, agricultural labor, railroad workers and certain other groups.
